

The Paragon Multimedia DVD, VHS Collection

Title: Flight of the Navigator

[1 Disc]

Library Image

ISBN: 5014138297848

Information

Release Title: Flight of the Navigator – 05th September 1986
(United Kingdom)

Publication:

Origin: United States

Release date: United States – 30th July 1986 (Limited)

AKA:

Genres: Adventure, Comedy, Family, Sci-Fi

Disc Nos. 1

Certification: U

Duration: 1hr 30m

Region Code:

Region:

Product Code:

MPN:

EAN:

UPC:

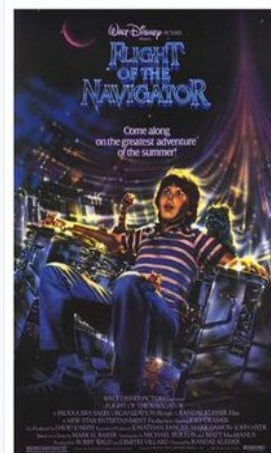

Languages: English

Filming locations: Sætre Biscuit Factory - Kornmoveien 1, Tårnåsen, Norway (spaceship interior, now demolished and replaced by apartments)

Sound mix: Dolby Stereo

Aspect Ratio: 1.85:1

Flight of the Navigator

Theatrical release poster

Directed by	Randal Kleiser
Screenplay by	Michael Burton Matt MacManus
Story by	Mark H. Baker
Produced by	Dimitri Villard Robert Wald
Starring	Joey Cramer Sarah Jessica Parker
Cinematography	James Glennon
Edited by	Jeff Gourson Janice Parker
Music by	Alan Silvestri
Production companies	Walt Disney Pictures PSO Productions Viking Film AS ^{[1][2]}
Distributed by	Buena Vista Distribution (United States) PSO Productions (International) ^{[1][a]}
Release date	August 1, 1986 ^[3]
Running time	90 minutes
Country	United States ^[4]
Language	English
Budget	$9 million ^[5]
Box office	$18.6 million

1 - Title: Fight of the Navigator

Storyline

On July 4, 1978, in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, 12-year-old David Freeman walks through the woods to pick up his 8-year-old brother, Jeff, from a friend's house, when he falls into a ravine and is knocked unconscious. When he comes to, eight years have passed, and it is now 1986. He has not aged, and his appearance exactly matches his missing child poster. He is reunited with his aged parents and the now 16-year-old Jeff.

Meanwhile, an alien spaceship crashes through power lines and is captured by NASA. Hospital tests on David's brainwaves reveal images of it. Dr Louis Faraday, who has been studying it, persuades David to come to a NASA research facility for just 48 hours, promising him they can help learn what happened to him. Dr Faraday discovers that his mind is full of alien technical manuals and star charts far exceeding NASA's research, and that he was taken to the planet Phaelon, 560 light years away, in just 2.2 hours (about 2,105,990.4 x c). Having travelled faster than light, he has experienced time dilation, explaining how eight years have passed on Earth, but not for him. Dr Faraday decides to keep him there to finish his investigation, breaking his 48-hour promise.

Following a telepathic communication from the spaceship, David secretly boards it and meets its robotic commander, who introduces itself as a Trimaxion Drone Ship. David decides to call it "Max", while Max calls him the "Navigator". They escape from the facility and Max tells David that his mission is to travel the galaxy collecting biological specimens for analysis on Phaelon before returning them to their homes. Phaelon's scientists discovered that humans only use 10% of their brains, and as an experiment, filled the remainder of David's with miscellaneous information. Max returned him to Earth, but not to his own time, having determined a trip back in time would be dangerous for a human. When Max crashed the spaceship, the computer's data were erased. So, he needs the information in David's brain to return home.

While Max prepares for a mind transfer, David meets other alien specimens on board and bonds with a puckmaren, a tiny bat-like creature that is the last of his kind after a comet destroyed his planet. During the mind transfer, Max contracts human emotions and behaves eccentrically. David and his bickering trigger UFO reports in Tokyo and the United States. Meanwhile, NASA intern Carolyn McAdams, who befriended David, tells his family about his escape in the spaceship, so Dr Faraday has them confined to their house, and Carolyn is sent back to the facility.

When the spaceship stops at a gas station, David calls Jeff, who sets off fireworks on the roof to locate their new house. David and Max arrive there, but NASA agents have tracked the spaceship. Fearing that he will be institutionalized and treated like a guinea pig for the rest of his life if he remains in 1986, David orders Max to return him to 1978, accepting the risk of vaporization. He awakes in the ravine, walks home, and finds everything as he left it. During the Fourth of July celebration, Jeff sees that the puckmaren has stowed away in David's backpack. David tells him to keep it a secret, while Max flies' home across the fireworks-lit sky, calling, "See you later, navigator!"

Cast

Joey Cramer as David Scott Freeman
Paul Reubens as the voice of Max
Veronica Cartwright as Helen Freeman
Cliff DeYoung as Bill Freeman
Sarah Jessica Parker as Carolyn McAdams
Matt Adler as Jeff Freeman (16 years old)
Albie Whitaker as Jeff Freeman (8 years old)
Howard Hesseman as Dr. Louis Faraday
Jonathan Sanger as Dr. Carr
Iris Acker as Janet Howard
Richard Liberty as Larry Howard
Raymond Forchion as Detective Banks
Keri Rogers as Jennifer Bradley ^{Wiki}

Parental Guidance

Certification

Argentina:Atp Australia:G Brazil:Livre Bulgaria:B Canada:G (Quebec) Czechia:U France:Tous publics Hungary:12 Iceland:L India:U Ireland:PG Italy:T Japan:G Lithuania:V Malaysia:U Netherlands:AL New Zealand:G Nigeria:G Norway:7 Saudi Arabia:G South Africa:A South Korea:All Spain:A Sweden:7 Taiwan:GP United Kingdom:U United States:TV-PG (cable rating) United States:PG (certificate #28230) Vietnam:P West Germany:6

Sex & Nudity – None, Violence & Gore- None, Profanity- Mild, Alcohol, drugs & Smoking- None, Frightening & Intense Scenes - None

Soundtrack

The music score for the film was composed and performed by Alan Silvestri. It is distinct from his other scores in being entirely electronically generated, using the Synclavier, one of the first digital multi-track recorders and samplers. Release 1986

1. Theme from "Flight of the Navigator"
2. "Main Title"
3. "The Ship Beckons"
4. "David in the Woods"
5. "Robot Romp"
6. "Transporting the Ship"
7. "Ship Drop"
8. "Have to Help a Friend"
9. "The Shadow Universe"
10. "Flight"
11. "Finale"
12. "Star Dancing"

